The Mayor of New Orleans notified the Proveruzano gang they must cease interfering with and intimidating laborers. Ex-Attorney General Alexander Dead.

John F. Alexander, ex-Attorney General of Nevada, died at Pervis, California last Tuesday. He was a native of Mahaska county, Iowa, where he was born November 1, 1854. He crossed the plains with his parents when six years of age. He resided in Virginia four years. His parents then moved to the Truckee Meadows, near Glendale, on what is now known as the Hickman ranch. He graduated at the State University of California, returned to Nevada and engaged in the publication of the Gazette. He was twice elected District Attorney of Washoe county and in 1886 was elected Attorney General of Nevada, an office which he filled with marked ability. A year ago he had an attack of the grippe, from which he never recovered. He went to southern California, and was treated by a Riverside physician with Koch's lymph, but derived no benefit therefrom.

He leaves an affectionate mother who attended him during his illness, and a sister, Mrs. Scott Lake, to mourn the loss of a son and brother.

A Mean Man.

A man may use the wart on the back of his neck for a collar button, ride on the back coach to save interest on his money until the conductor gets round, stop his watch at night to save wear and tear, leave his i and j without a dot to save ink, pasture his mother's grave to save corn, and roll up his trousers to kneel at prayer in church to save wear—but a man of this sort is a gentleman and a scholar compared with the fellow who can and won't take his home paper, or who takes it a few years and when asked to pay for it puts it back in the office and has it marked "refused." Such a fellow will charge his grandmother for the air she breathes, and will rob his mother's hen-roost and steal sheep. He is too mean to love God, and the evil will even have no respect for him. The same fellow will go to church and sing louder than any one—"Jesus loves me," and knows that he is the biggest flop-lip liar on earth.—Ex.

Shame on Such.

There are a whole lot of people, and usually those who never smelt gun powder, that rejoice over the arbitrary treatment of Gen. Ben. F. Butler, by Judge Carpenter some time ago. It is a grand thing to have such old warriors as Gen. Butler was to help maintain a country for homes for a lot of fellows who, if in their proper places would be in their native land, marking time to the strict discipline peculiar to it, instead of being in this free country sneering at such patriots as Gen. Butler. Judge Carpenter's treatment of of him will not be approved by the genuine citizen.—People's Advocate.

Still in Progress.

Hy. Downs sent word of the fight over the mountains by signal fires on Thursday night. Starting a fire when the mill began, he kept it burning while Corbett was ahead, and smothered it when Jackson was on top.

These signals were repeated over the Como range and up to Alpine and Douglas counties.

When the draw came he was at a loss what to do, and leaving the fire burning went to bed.

Up in Wolf Creek and Genoa they think the fight is still in progress.

A Stone Pavilion.

The Ormsby Fair Directors have decided on a stone building, and awarded the contract to Wm. Elliott the only bidder, at $2,330. The carpenter and joiner work was awarded to Hall and Wilcox whose bid of $1,240 was the lowest. The Directors will furnish all material, and the building must be completed in time for the next fair.

The man who collects for the street sprinkling cart this week will have to carry a six-shooter.

Diseases of woman a specialty. m12 Dr. Fox.

The New York Evening Post, in a tempest of rage, declares the pursuit of the Itata to be a flagrant outrage, gross disregard of international law and simply brutal. It holds it to be unwarranted by any precedent, and to be no more defensible than was Napoleon's order for an assault before breakfast to show a lady what a battle was like. The Post contends that we have no right to pursue the Itata upon the high seas, but that if she should come within American waters then we could properly seize her. Let us ask the Post for what? It must reply, for violation of the neutrality laws. But for more—she was in the possession of the United States; our Government had placed upon her an official, and she was therefore under arrest. While in that condition she ran out of the harbor of San Diego, forcibly dispossessed the official and put to sea. The United States has, therefore, the right to retake her upon the high seas. The case is very simple. When the Post charges the pursuit to jingoism and assails the Secretaries of State and of the Navy with bitterness, and alleges that if there is blood shed because of the pursuit it will be murder on the part of the Secretary of the Navy, the paper talks nonsense. It would seem that whatever this Government does, the Post is bound to snarl at it and shower abuse upon it; there is nothing American that commands its respect. It ought to be published on the other side of the big pond.—Record-Union.

A Benefit Ball.

W. will give a benefit ball to Henry Duffy, who was taken from the Nevada State Printing Office last Winter and brought to the Asylum of the insane at Reno. The military are still guarding the Pacific Mail coal lighters at Acapulco for fear the Esmeralda may attempt to take coal by force.

There is rumor that the present line of the Central Pacific R. R. across the Sierra is to be abandoned and a detour from Wadsworth and the mountains crossed at Beckwith pass. The line would then pass eight or nine miles north of Reno. Nothing in it, we think.
